JOBS

Freelance Web Site Designer and Builder, 2007-present

Responsible for designing and building sites of varying types and sizes to client specifications. A one-woman operation, responsible for all aspects of site creation from domain registration and hosting choices to final launch. Have created sites of many different sizes and complexities, from one-template sites to small business ecommerce sites.

Freelance Television Animation Writer, 1996-2007

You heard me. Have written scripts, writers' bibles and development materials for over 30 different shows and projects, such as Disney's Kim Possible and Nickelodeon's The Fairly Oddparents. Staff writer on Nickelodeon's The X's and E! Tigre and on CBS's The Weird Al Show.

Temporary Legal Word Processor, 1996-2007

When needed. Required "power user" skills in programs like MS Word (for the creation of court documents with very specific requirements), Excel, Powerpoint, Omnipage (for OCR text recognition), and a number of other industry-specific programs. Was able to master new software and technologies quickly and with minimal instruction.
